OCR As Level History is a challenging but rewarding qualification. It is designed to give students a deep understanding of historical events and the skills to analyse and evaluate historical sources. This guide provides everything you need to know to achieve your best grade in OCR As Level History.

What is OCR As Level History?

OCR As Level History is a one-year course that is taught in schools and colleges across the UK. It is equivalent to half of an A Level qualification. The course is divided into four units:

- Unit 1: The Making of the Modern World (1700-1914)

- Unit 2: The Shaping of the Twentieth Century (1914-1991)
- Unit 3: Weimar and Nazi Germany (1918-1945)
- Unit 4: The Cold War (1945-1991)

Each unit is worth 25% of the final grade. Students must choose two units to study in depth. The other two units are studied at a more basic level.
